Who is the Information Commissioner?

The Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) is responsible for regulating, enforcing and promoting good practice and transparency in the access and use of personal information. Organisations have to notify the ICO of all the purposes for which they will be processing information. the individuals likely to be affected by this type of processing (e.g. a tenant), what type of personal information will be processed and who we may share the information with.

The above is a brief example of one purpose in the notification. We are a happy to supply you with a copy of the notification upon request.
